

Sungold:

This variety is easily distinguishable from "Oberkulmer", "Champ", and "Maverick" by its brown chaff color. Sungold is also several days earlier in heading than Oberkulmer and Champ, but about three days later than Maverick. Sungold is also several inches shorter than Oberkulmer and Champ, being about the same height as Maverick. The cultivar appears well adapted to Midwest growing conditions and has also performed well in Montana and Canada.