Seed certification remains strong in Washington, and WSCIA continues to provide educational opportunities for members and the seed industry at large. Certified seed is a key component of the high-quality wheat crop grown in Washington, and your WSCIA membership is one way to demonstrate your support of seed certification.

WSCIA encourages anyone interested in quality seed to become a member of the state and county crop improvement associations. Through mailings, electronic publications, and our website, members are provided information relative to the seed industry such as new varietal developments, technical information, seed sources, and seed availability. Membership also provides the opportunity to get together with other members of the seed industry at annual state and county crop improvement association meetings to identify and discuss topics of interest common to all. Membership is not required to certify seed.

We would greatly appreciate your membership for 2021.

Membership categories are:
